WILL ENTERTAIN

The Maysville Lodge B. P. O. Elks to Give Dance in Honor of Cast of "A Day at Coney Island."

Maysville Lodge No. 704, B. P. O. Elks will entertain with a dance at their club rooms at the corner of Court and West Second streets on Friday evening in honor of the cast of "A Day at Coney Island." The invitations are now being issued.

Following the two successful presentations of "A Day at Coney Island" in the Opera House February 15 and 16, those in the leadership in the lodge determined that some way should be found of showing their appreciation to the members of the cast that made the production such a great success in this city. After much consideration they have determined to give a dance in their honor. During the evening a delicious banquet will be served to those present.

The Elks take this means of showing their great appreciation for the realized a very neat sum from the two night's exhibition. They feel that they can hardly repay the members of the cast who worked so faithfully and earnestly to make the show a success.

WILL ENTERTAIN FOR FORMER PASTOR

Rev. and Mrs. H. Kerr Taylor, the former being pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church in this city for several months, will arrive in this city Thursday morning on C. & O. train No. 5 to spend two days here visiting friends. Wood and family of Forest avenue and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Holstein of West Second street. On Thursday night the ladies of the Central Presbyterian Church will give a reception in honor of the former pastor and his wife, lasting from 7:30 until 9 o'clock in the church. All members are invited to be present. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will leave on Saturday morning for San Francisco, Cal., later sailing for China, where they will engage in missionary work.

SENATE COMMITTEE

By Divided Vote, Favors Arming Trade Ships—Further Progress of Bill Is Blocked Until Thursday When LaFollette Objects to Formalities of Referring Bill Back to Body.

Washington, February 27.—The administration waits upon Congress to give the answer of the United States to the German campaign of ruthlessness which has reached a climax in the sinking of the liner Laconia and the killing of two innocent American women.

Official accounts of the unwarmed night attack on the Cunarder, regarded as the first clear-cut case of violation of American rights since the severance of relations with Germany, were laid before President Wilson and the cabinet today by Secretary Lansing. It was decided that no steps should be taken until Congress had time to grant the request for additional authority to protect the lives and rights of Americans.

In Congress, little progress was made during the day toward enacting the legislation for which the President asked in his address yesterday. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, by a divided vote, reported on a bill similar to the one introduced in the House, to authorize the President to arm merchant ships and employ such other "instrumentalities as he may deem necessary."

The formalities of referring the measure back to the committee was blocked by Senator LaFollette and as the Senate is working under an agreement to consider nothing except by unanimous consent until the revenue bill has been voted on tomorrow night, further action is delayed until Thursday.

On the House side, the Foreign Affairs Committee talked through two sessions over phraseology, those opposing action objecting chiefly to the words "other instrumentalities." The committee finally adjourned until tomorrow without taking a vote.

Even in the Senate the administration spokesmen professed full confidence that a measure satisfactory to the President will be passed later in the week. Although most of the Republicans favored stronger action than has been proposed, it is believed they will vote for the committee bill when the roll call comes.

Some senators believed that the only sort of doubt lies in the attitude of Senator LaFollette, whose course today suggested the possibility of a filibuster. With adjournment only a few days off, one senator might easily talk the bill to death and force an extra session. The Wisconsin senator has not committed himself further than to say he did not think any action should be taken until the country was given a chance to see the proposed legislation.

PREPAREDNESS PROCRASTINATED

With the outbreak of the European war, the first question which arose in the minds of the American people was, "Are we prepared?" Military and naval experts answered, "No!" President Wilson, Josephus Daniels, and a Democratic Congress said, "There is no need for preparation. There is no danger." Secretary of State Bryan smiled fatuously and fondled his dove.

On December 8, 1914, Woodrow Wilson appeared before Congress to deliver his message. He said: "No one who speaks counsel based on fact or drawn from a just and candid interpretation of realities can say that there is reason to fear that from any quarter our independence or the integrity of our territory is threatened." Replying to criticism of the party in power for its refusal to carry out plans for the national defense, he declared: "The country has been misinformed. We have not been negligent of national defense."

But the majority of the American people, thanks to the press, knew better. There arose a nation-wide discontent because of the quibbling policy of the Democratic party. Leagues were organized, preparedness parades were given, speakers were sent through the land, posters blazed from bill-boards all over the country; and those who had been apathetic in the cause of preparedness were aroused from their lethargy to a realization of the dangers which beset an opulent nation without adequate means of defense.

Following these demonstrations the Wilson wobble made its appearance. If the people wanted preparedness it might be good politics to talk it to them. And so we had the "world on fire" speeches, and the "I do not know what each day may bring forth" alarm in February, 1916. There was a speech for Eastern consumption, and another sort of speech for the Middle West. Secretary Garrison had submitted the draft of an army reorganization bill to Congress which bore the approval of the President. Political expediency pulled him away from the Garrison plan, and his western speech, together with his acquiescence in Chairman Hay's plans, caused the resignation of Garrison, the ablest man in the Wilson Cabinet. The Hay Bill, with modifications, went through Congress. It was an hermaphrodite measure. It authorized an emergency increase of 20,000 men and made other changes designed to increase of 20,000 men and made other changes designed to increase enlistments. Today the army is over 14,000 below authorized strength, and more than 34,000 below the maximum of the Hay law, despite strenuous efforts to induce men to enlist.

There was placed to the credit of the Government last year a generous sum with which to begin the construction of a government nitrate plant, and another allotment to start a government armor plant. Operations have been commenced on neither project. The shipping board, which has $50,000,000 of the people's money at its disposal, was appointed, took a nap, was confirmed by the Senate, had a family row instanter, and then went back to bed:

Nothing attempted, nothing done,
Had earned a night's repose.

On the whole, the adjuration for the entire country to "stand by the Administration," regardless of political considerations, sounds like a soft-spoken invitation to get into bed with the Administration and pull the covers over our heads while burglars loot the works.

RAILROAD PARALYSIS IN RUSSIA

The United States is not the only country that is embarrassed by a congestion of freight traffic. All the belligerent nations of Europe face the same problem, but Russia's position is more analogous to that of the United States, for Russia is not without the merchandise to be moved and only lacks the trains and engines to do the work.

Germany, for instance, uses her railroads chiefly for military purposes, but if large food supplies were on hand anywhere in that compact country they could be hurried to the spot where they are needed most very rapidly. Russia has large stores of foodstuffs, but a large part of her population is in dire need, simply because of a lack of transportation facilities.

Special cables from Petrograd declare the food situation in that capital and in many parts of rural Russia to be serious to the point of desperation. Russia has, indeed, only very limited railroad facilities, and those are at the breaking point to supply the armies alone. Great stores of wheat were assembled at Odessa and other Black Sea points months ago in the hope that the forcing of the Dardanelles would open the way for the transport of this wheat to Italy, France and Great Britain. But the Dardanelles are still in Turkish, or rather German, hands, and the way to the Mediterranean is barred. In the meantime millions of Russian people are hungry, and there is no way to get the grain to the points where it is most needed.

Similar stores are reported all along the line of the Siberian railway, but that railway is choked to suffocation with ammunition made in Japan—Louisville Post.

AS TRANSLATED INTO AMERICA

No jingo, no jingo—but, if you are an American, you must have felt something that quietly warned your heart as you watched how the country took the break with Germany.

Not a demonstration anywhere, not the rattling of one sabre, no public assemblies, no clamor in the streets no crowds marching about cheering for war, no threats, no boastings of how we should eat them alive, but everywhere, all of a sudden, two things:

Full recognition of the seriousness of the step and full resolve to go through with it no matter what might happen.

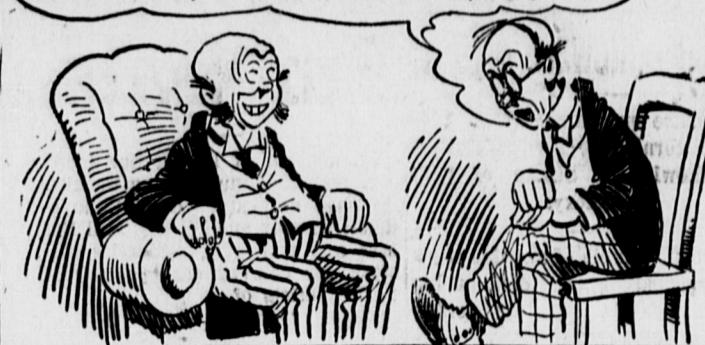

Pretty good country—what? Those that were in Europe in the troublous days at the end of July and beginning of August, 1914 don't need to have the difference pointed out to them.

In times of peace, ladies and gentlemen who preach disloyalty and nonresistance make some noise and parade to and fro as if they really amounted to something. Forget them all.

Let any test come, and see what Americans really are and really think about their flag and their ideals.—Louisville Herald.

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of It in Maysville But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys often cry for help. Not another organ in the whole body more delicately constructed; Not one more important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous. There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the frequent indications of kidney trouble. It is often the kidney's cry for help. Heed it.

Read what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for overworked kidneys. Read what Doan's have done for Maysville people.

Mrs. E. Sphar, E. Second and Walnut Sts., Maysville, says: "Whenever I have heard anyone complain of their kidneys, I have never seen Doan's Kidney Pills fail to help them. I have been greatly benefitted by them myself. At times, my back has ached and I have suffered from lameness through the small of my back. When I have been in that way, I have used a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Chanslor's Drug Store. They have always quickly removed the trouble."

Mrs. Sphar is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Sphar had, the remedy backed by home testimony, 50c all stores. Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fulton, N. Y. — "Why will women pay out their money for treatment and receive no benefit, when so many have proved that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will make them well? For over a year I suffered so from female weakness I could hardly stand and was afraid to go on the street alone. Doctors said medicines were useless and only an operation would help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved it otherwise. I am now perfectly well and can do any kind of work."—Mrs. NELLIE PHELPS, care of R. A. Rider, R.F.D. No. 5, Fulton, N. Y.

We wish every woman who suffers from female troubles, nervousness, backache or the blues could see the letters written by women made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. BONE DRY MEASURE IS HELD UP BY CONFEREES

Washington, February 26—Prohibition leaders in Congress were up in arms tonight over a report that the conferees on the postoffice appropriation bill were preparing to let the measure fall in order to kill the Reed "bone dry" amendment prohibiting the shipment of liquor into dry states.

Representative Randall, of California, declared he had definite information that such a course had been planned. He and other prohibition champions said if the conferees reported a disagreement and a resolution continuing the present office appropriations were brought in they would see to it that the Reed amendment went to the White House with the continuing resolution.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. JURY TO DECIDE THAW'S SANITY

Philadelphia, Pa., February 26—A petition for the appointment of a lunacy commission to determine the sanity of Harry K. Thaw, confined in a hospital here as the result of self-inflicted wounds when he was about to be arrested on a New York indictment charging him with assault on 19-year-old Fred Gump, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., was filed in Common Pleas Court here today by counsel in behalf of Thaw's mother. The proceedings, it was announced, were instituted in an effort to have Thaw adjudged insane and his person and estate brought under control of the judicial authorities of Pennsylvania.

The petition is made returnable the first week in April.

E. A. Ballard, an attorney of the city, was appointed commissioner in lunacy. He will sit with a Sheriff's jury of six men to be chosen later, to pass judgment of Thaw's mental condition. The proceedings are part of an anticipated move by those looking after Thaw's interests to fight his removal to New York on requisition and are believed to be the forerunner of lengthy litigation.

"If Thaw's lunacy is settled anywhere it will be in New York," according to District Attorney Swann, of New York, when informed of the latest move of Thaw's counsel. "It is our intention to use every legal means to have Thaw taken to New York to answer the charges on which he has been indicted."

Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, who took up her temporary residence at the hospital shortly after her son slashed himself with a razor at a rooming place here six weeks ago, issued a statement in which she said she "was unable to resist the fact that demonstrates his insanity."

"Therefore I have applied to the court of my state to help a mother protect her son from his infirmities." Joseph C. Thaw, a brother, and Dr. Walter Riddell, Pittsburgh, the Thaw family's physician, in an affidavit attached to the petition state that they have known Harry Thaw forty and thirty years, respectively, and are convinced he is unsound mind.

N. Y. MAYOR SEEKS POWER TO BUY AND SELL FOOD

New York, February 26—Mayor Mitchell announced tonight after the resumption of rioting on the East Side, which resulted in the police reserves making several arrests, that a bill would be introduced in the legislature tomorrow to empower the city to purchase food supplies and sell them at cost, as a means of ameliorating sufferings among the poor here, due to the present high cost of living.

Governor Whitman, prior to his departure for Albany, earlier in the day, asserted that he did not expect to send an emergency measure to the legislature, as he was "convinced the situation was not critical."

Onion Specials Arranged

Joseph Hartigan, city commissioner of weights and measures, predicted a material drop in the prices of potatoes and onions before the end of the week. It will be brought about, he said, as the result of relief in freight congestion and the fact that virtually all of the potato and onion growing states of the country now are entering the market. Railroads of fifteen states, Mr. Hartigan asserted had arranged to rush "onion specials" to this city.

Information furnished to him by wholesale produce dealers, District Attorney Swann announced, indicated that the farmers were responsible for the increase in the price of potatoes and onions. In December, he said, farmers were receiving $1.47 a bushel for potatoes, double the price of December 1915.

10,000 MEN, 750 BOATS NEEDED TO GUARD COAST

New York, February 26—Ten thousand men and 750 small boats are needed to assist the navy in guarding the Atlantic Coast, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt said here tonight in a speech urging the organization of a volunteer coast patrol. In response many yacht and motor boat owners pledged their crafts and their services to the government.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several days," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of "sick place," "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package 10-day.

SLEEPER RAMMED; 14 TO 20 KILLED

Harrisburg, Pa., February 27—From fourteen to twenty persons are believed to have been killed when a freight train plowed its way into the rear of a steel sleeper of the Mercantile Express on the Pennsylvania railroad at Mount Union Station near Altoona early today. The steel coach was forced through a wooden coach just ahead.

According to first reports reaching here, practically all of the occupants of the wooden coach were either killed or badly injured. The number is variously estimated at from 14 to 20.

The two cars were so tightly jammed that little headway had been made in extricating occupants half an hour after the accident. Relief trains bearing physicians and nurses left Altoona at 1 o'clock this morning.

The express left Pittsburgh at 7 o'clock last night and was due in Philadelphia at 4:18 o'clock this morning.

MAYSVILLE'S DEATH RATE

Compares Favorably With That of Many Cities of Its Size — Only 14.5 Per Thousand — Some Interesting Statistics.

As additional evidence that Maysville is a good place in which to live the Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of statistics from the office of the State Board of Health giving the death rate for Maysville, for last year showing that the death rate in Maysville is 14.5 per thousand per year which is much below the average of most cities.

But even with this low rate for the city itself the per cent of deaths caused by preventable diseases is much higher than we realize and much higher than it should be. The State Board of Health figures show that 47 citizens of Maysville died last year from diseases which could have been prevented. This is a statement of negligence which is appalling. The diseases and a number of people dying from them are as follows:

Tuberculosis	13
Pneumonia	15
Diphtheria	2
Measles	1
Diarrhoea	1
Influenza	3
Cancer	4
Violence	8

When we stop to consider that these 47 deaths were entirely unnecessary and could have been prevented if proper health and sanitation conditions existed it makes us consider more seriously this vital question of social life. These figures are published at a time when the people of Maysville are being offered an opportunity to correct the evils which they represent, by assisting in the campaign which is now going on for funds with which to make a complete survey of the health and sanitary conditions in Maysville and Mason county in order that we may find out where the trouble lies and then correct it.

REVENUE ASSIGNMENTS

TWO NATIONAL HIGHWAYS

May Pass Through Maysville If Coordinated Efforts Are Made by Citizens to Get Routes—Jackson and Midland Trail are Roads Being Sought After.

Since the advent of the automobile, its increasing popularity has caused a great change in the affairs of the country along transportation lines. It can go almost any place in a much shorter time than a horse-driven carriage and is not compelled to stay in one route as a railroad train.

But the owners and drivers of automobiles are always careful of their machines and will always pick the best road possible. Their chief thought is to get the machine over the distance intervening between them and their goal as soon as possible with the least possible wear on the machine. The automobile is rapidly getting more popular in pleasure trips, some being taken from coast to coast by tourists.

To this end the thousands of pleasure seekers all over the country are demanding better roads and better routes to make their journeys. Entertaining persons have compiled maps of states showing the various roads, the best routes to travel for scenery, etc. Sometimes these roads are used as a state road after running for several hundred miles.

Chief among these are the Lincoln Highway, one of the great systems of the western part of the United States and the Dixie Highway running from the coast to the gulf.

Recently projects have been started for two national highways, one the Midland Trail, running from Old Point Comfort, Va., to San Francisco, Cal., and the other, the Jackson Highway, from Buffalo, New York, to New Orleans, La. The route is for these roads have been partially made out but the final routes have not been chosen.

The Maysville Chamber of Commerce has taken hold of the project to get the two latter named roads to pass through this city. Secretary Grimsley has taken hold of the project in a very enthusiastic manner and there is but little doubt that one of the roads at least will pass through here.

The Midland Trail will start at Old Point Comfort, Va., and westward will strike Catlettsburg and Ashland, Ky., from the latter place going to Lexington. Three routes are suggested between Ashland and Lexington, one across Carter county, one crossing the river at Ashland going to Ironton and to Portsmouth, recrossing at Maysville; thence to Lexington, and the third, a direct river route from Ashland to Maysville without crossing the river. To land one of the two latter routes is the thing suggested by Mr. Grimsley.

The Jackson Highway will start at Buffalo, New York, thence to Columbus, Ohio, south to Lexington, Ky., and on to New Orleans. Between Columbus and Lexington there are two routes open. The first by way of Cincinnati, the second by Maysville. Both routes are sought and the result is very much in doubt.

The advantage of having these routes pass through Maysville is at once apparent. Thousands of tourists would annually pass through here bringing a great amount of business to the city. Maysville is the natural route to the Bluegrass country and if the citizens of the county desire to have the routes they should back the project as much as possible.

POWER SHUT OFF

A large tree was blown across the lines of the electric light company this morning about 7:30 o'clock. Power was shut off in a number of business houses in the city. Street car service was interrupted for some time.
